

D-R-O

Distributor of consumer electronics

About

Distribution is in our company's DNA. We know what works in it, and what doesn't, as we have been the active element of the distribution chain in Europe . Whether domestically or internationally, we operate our distribution business with the goal of growing the number of our B2B customers who rate our speed in action, openness in communication, constant search for new solutions and seeing challenges as opportunities not obstacles.

Established in 2013, D-R-O initially offered mainly GSM accessories distribution services. In response to the changing market, the company became a multibrand distributor. Today, D-R-O acts as a producer, value added distributor in the areas of ICT, Smart Home and solar energy solutions, and runs a number of e-commerce projects.
